BLUE CROSS, SHIELD GAIN RAPIDLY IN STATE POPULARITY

From 0.2 to 235,000 members in 5 years is the remarkable achievement of the Mississippi Hospital and Medical Service, the Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plan for this State. So rapid has been its progress that it has consistently led the entire nation in enrollment gains. Blue Cross officials attribute this growth to the progressive nature of Mississippians in solving the vital problem of hospital care by wisely budgeting for their bills in advance. Not to be overlooked is the outstanding support given by Doctors, Hospitals, Farm Bureau and many business leaders who are strong advocates of this voluntary non-profit program. Hancock Countians now have a chance to join during the period June 10 to July 13. King's Daughters Hospital is sponsoring this drive which is held for two weeks each year.

OTHO RESTER ELECTED TO COAST ELECTRIC

Otho Rester, Leetown Community farmer, was elected at a special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Coast Electric Power Association, held June 10, to fill the vacancy on the board created by the death of his brother, John S. Rester. Rester will serve with C. W. Fountain of Logtown and George Curet of Kila as the three directors from Hancock County. Fred S. Ledner Sr., R. F. Randall Rester, Harvey Burks and E. Turan and B. F. Morris represent Harrison County on the board, with Walter Stewart as Directors from Pearl River County. This makes a board of nine as prescribed in the association's bylaws. The son of James and Annie Rester, Otho Rester was born in Leetown Community, near where he now lives, in 1898. After grade school at Leetown, he attended High School at Caesar. Married to Annie McGeehee, the Resters have six children by this union—3 boys and 3 girls; Mr. Rester also has a daughter by a former wife. All children are married except one son, Larry, age 13. Six grandchildren round out this family group. Rester has spent his entire life on the farm and dealing with farm folks and their problems. Starting with 40 acres in 1925, he now has 340 acres. Practicing as well as preaching, Rester has a fine dairy herd of 50 jersey cows, also has added to this herd, does considerable truck farming, has a considerable flock of chickens, raised some 4000 turkeys last year, has tung and pecan orchards, and contract for the maintenance of some 500 acres of tung orchard for others. One of the first in this area to go to irrigation, Rester this year is irrigating the corn and truck crops, and plans to irrigate pasture land next year. Active in farming circles, Rester has been the chairman of the Soil Conservation Committee of Hancock County for the past six years, is a member and Past President of the Hancock County Farm Bureau, a leader in PMA work in his county, and presently is a director and vice president of the Columbia National Farm Loan Association, affiliated with Federal Land Bank.

Rester served as Representative from Hancock County in the Mississippi Legislature during the 1940-1944 session. A veteran of World War I, he is an active church worker and a member of Union Baptist Church in this community, and active in PTA work in the Leetown school.

Local "Miss Hospitality" Preparing For Five Days Of Contest Activities

Baby Day To Be Sunday At First Baptist Church

Sunday, July 5 has been designated as baby day in the First Baptist Church, and all babies will be recognized.

Mrs. M. J. Necaise is Superintendent of the Cradle Roll, and mothers have the privilege of enrolling their babies at birth.

To tie the home in with the Church and to emphasize the need of Spiritual Training in the home, mothers are asked to bring their babies and participate in this program.

JACKSON, Miss, July 1—The state bond commission Wednesday sold $760,000 in additional bonds for the completion of the Bay St. Louis toll bridge to a group of Jackson and New York buyers at a 4 per cent interest rate.

Sale of the bonds, which are in addition to $8,400,000 sold previously for the project, was negotiated by the bond commission after a single bid was rejected by the commission last week.

Buying the bonds was a group composed of Harrington and Co., Jackson, and Shields and Co., New York. The interest rate compares with 3.5 per cent for the original issue.

Additional funds were required to finish the project because of encountering a 900-foot "bottomless section" of the Bay of St. Louis during construction highway authorities have said.

The bridge is expected to be dedicated in ceremonies on the Bay St. Louis side on August 1.

Hancock County's Miss Hospitality, Irma Joan Lee, is still shopping for her required wardrobe that will take her through the five days and five nights of Mississippi's state-wide contest to find a girl to represent the State during 1953-54.

Irma Joan has received preliminary instructions from the State A & I Board, official sponsors of the Miss Hospitality Contest. Registration will begin at the Robert E. Lee Hotel at 10 a. m. on July 14, with contestants being divided into Groups A and B, which is determined by the alphabetical listing of their communities.

The girls will receive instructions in walking, posture and general appearance before any judging begins. Modeling instructions will be given by Mrs. Gordon Knuckles of Jackson, formerly with Toni Barron Models. Official chaperones will be the wives of the A & I officials and members of the staff.

Necessary clothing includes a bathing suit, evening wear, cotton dresses, suitable clothes for 7 teas and 3 luncheons, hats and gloves, sport clothes, dude ranch clothes and free time outfits, such as slacks, shorts or play suits.

Three formal dinners are scheduled at the Handelberg Room at Gulfport's Small Creek Harbor and at the Convention Center.

Irma Joan will wear a strapless white nylon net gown with a pink sash for the coronation appearance. Many of her outfit items have been purchased from local shops. These $30 centerpieces from the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, City of Bay St. Louis and a luncheon home have helped Mrs. Lee tremendously in her preparation for the contest.

The large wardrobe required for the contest is now complete and the contest is now open to all girls who are interested in the contest. The contest is a chance for girls to grow in their understanding of God and His love for us. The contest is a source of inspiration and encouragement for all who attend. It is a reminder that we are not alone in our journey and that we have a loving God who is with us every step of the way.

Hancock County's Miss Hospitality will be as well equipped as any of the other 75 contestants and should bring home the prize to Bay St. Louis.

Holleman May Seek To Impound March 31 Ballots

An order is being sought by District Attorney Boyce Holleman of the second judicial district to impound certain records of the March 31 special district attorney's election for further grand jury consideration in Hancock and Harrison counties.

District Attorney Holleman said at Gulfport that he was filing a petition for the action in the circuit courts of the counties.

No specific records were mentioned in the petition, but Holleman said that the order would include all ballot boxes, with their contents, and the poll books, which related to the election in Hancock and Harrison counties.

According to the petition, a portion of the evidence is in the custody of Circuit Clerk J. Monroe Spiers of Pearl River County, while the remainder is in the custody of the circuit clerks of Hancock and Harrison counties.

Records being held by the Pearl River clerk were used in Holleman's election contest in Pearl River Circuit Court. On June 2 the trial jury returned a verdict which stated that Holleman received the greatest number of legal votes cast. The verdict declared null and void the election held in Biloxi Precinct 4 and White Plains boxes.

The petition points out that the judgment of the Pearl River court is still subject to appeal to the Mississippi supreme court. It adds that the evidence held by the Pearl River clerk will be transferred to the supreme court clerk if the appeal is prosecuted.

In the petition, Holleman calls attention to the fact that the June grand jury of Harrison County referred the possibility of fraud in the election to the December grand jury.

Specifically the petition stated that "certain evidence relating to criminal liability of the person or persons involved in the official conduct of the election" was not available to the June panel, since it was a part of the evidence introduced in the election contest.

"There has arisen," the petition states, "certain questions as to the conduct of election managers and other officials," and as to whether or not there have been violations of the state criminal statutes."

The petition deemed the evidence essential to the interests of the prosecution on behalf of the state of Mississippi.

It was recommended by the June grand jury that the circuit clerk purge the election rolls of Harrison County and that the Harrison County Election Commission use the utmost discretion in picking qualified election managers in the future.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

With all the excitement and the fireworks that are being set off in every town and city in the United States, it is easy to forget that this is the day when the American people declared their independence from Great Britain.

There are many things that we can do to celebrate this day. We can have a picnic, we can have a party, we can have a parade. But the most important thing we can do is to remember the sacrifices that our fathers made for us.

The spirit of American independence is the spirit of freedom. It is the spirit that has made our country what it is today. It is the spirit that has made us a great nation.

Let us all join together in celebrating this day. Let us all remember the sacrifices that our fathers made for us.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

177 years of freedom have been granted to the American people. It is a day of great significance. It is a day when the American people declared their independence from Great Britain.

Let us all join together in celebrating this day. Let us all remember the sacrifices that our fathers made for us.

Waveland on Fell Street. Their friends in Waveland wish to express their deepest condolences to the Landry family in their sudden grief.

The Oyster Convention, with headquarters at the Jung Hotel in New Orleans, was big news in the Crescent City last week. Attending the convention from Waveland were Mr. and Mrs. James McConnell and their guests Mrs. Hilda Erwin and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rose. Mr. McConnell is the head of the Department of Conservation in Louisiana. According to the visitors, there wasn't a dull moment and from all accounts this could well be true.

On Monday, the group spent the day at Grand Isle, where they enjoyed a delicious sea food luncheon and later made a tour of the oyster beds in this area. Tuesday morning the ladies attending the convention boarded the Good Neighbor Yacht and enjoyed a thrilling trip along the Mississippi River. Tuesday evening was gala indeed when the group made a tour of not one, but seven, New Orleans night clubs and saw seven entertaining floor shows.

On Wednesday the Wavelandites were joined by the McConnells' son, Mr. James McConnell, of New Orleans, and the McConnells' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Quinn of Monroe, La. All attended the cocktail party in the Cotillion Room of the Jung Hotel, and much later, a typical Mardi Gras Ball which displayed all the color and glitter for which New Orleans balls are famous.

Prior to the banquet Mr. James McConnell was guest speaker and at this time he was presented with a scroll honoring him for outstanding achievement for his work in the field of oysters. All who attended the convention agreed that it was wonderful.
On Friday Mrs. Fred Rose and Mrs. Hilda Erwin motored to Laurel where they spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ellis. Mrs. Ellis is the former Miss Jean Pritchard, of Waveland, daughter of Mrs. Erwin.

But the wireless operators, like all other sailors, which he deemed more important, ignored them. He was suddenly noticed back to the California that he was trying to reach another point via wireless and to get off on "blue" no.

Finally when the third passenger message came through he jotted it down and passed it to the bridge.

The message was delivered to the ship's master, who under the code of the sea was entirely responsible for the lives aboard, and he in turn passed it over to the chairman and director of the White Star Line, who was making the voyage.

Finally the director, read the radiogram, relegated it to the recesses of his jacket and casually took a stroll around the deck. (One wonders at this point what was in his thinking? Was his confidence so supreme that he thought such a possibility of danger inconceivable? And one also wonders what his reaction was when the disaster occurred, knowing that he was partly responsible for the mishap.)

Hours later for the skipper, Captain E. J. Smith decided to post the information where others concerned might read it.

Captain Smith was notably boastful that in his nearly forty years at sea he had never seen an accident.

Late in the evening the Californian sent still another wireless of warning to the "Titanic" operator. A short ten

Please! how long does it take Mammy Mocking-Bird to hatch her eggs? Papa Mocking-Bird is proclaiming the disastrous event to all the world in our neighborhood—and has been for weeks.

On one particular morning at the crack of dawn when P. M. was hitting a too thrill and too repetitious note, I complained that I would be glad when the eggs were hatched and he would retire to a less haranguing pastime ("That is, haranguing to me"). His shell came up with, "If I would the shame to shoot the guy for singing."

Well, even if he could aim gun—wouldn't that of shooting him—I would be happy to supply him and his family with a year's provender if he would just close his beak long enough to swallow.

SECOND UNIT AT PLANT SWEATT INTO OPERATION

The second 58,000 horsepower generating unit at Plant Sweatt went into operation this week, it was announced by L. P. Sweatt, president of the company. This plant, located near Meridian, now has a capacity of 116,000 horsepower and can generate approximately 2,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity per day.

Sweatt said that for the next few days the second unit will operate at about one half capacity. This will be done so that the final balance adjustments can be made on the generator rotor. Although this is a massive piece of machinery it requires a careful balancing and adjustment as a fine watch. Upon completion of adjustments, hydro-gan will be put into the generator as a cooling agent and the unit will be operated at full capacity.

Plant Sweatt generates electricity at 13,800 volts and this is stepped up to 110,000 volts in the plant substation for transmission to distribution load centers, where the voltage is reduced for use in homes, farms, businesses and industries of Southeast Mississippi. All communities served by the company are connected to Plant Sweatt through a high voltage inter-connected transmission network.

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

Nation Told of Industrial Advantages of State. In Advertisements

The advantages of locating industries in Mississippi will be the subject of a full-page, two color ad in the July 6 issue of Time magazine, which will reach subscribers and newstands Thursday or Friday of this week.

Appearing under the sponsorship of United Gas Corporation, United Gas Pipe Line Company and Union Producing Company, the ad will describe Mississippi as a "choice location for industrial success." It will cite the state's manpower, moderate climate, raw materials, adequate electric power and natural gas fuel as good reasons for locating plants here.

In addition, the Time magazine, the Mississippi ad will appear in Newsweek, United States News, Business Week and Wall Street Journal during the month of July, according to J. D. Davis, of Jackson, manager of United's transmission and production properties in Mississippi, Southern Alabama and Northwest Florida.

Approximately 90 cities and towns in Mississippi obtaining their supplies of natural gas will be listed in the ad. Davis pointed out, however, that the advertisement is in fact an effort to interest industries in all parts of Mississippi.

This state has been made the subject of previous United Gas ads in 1948 and 1949, Davis stated. The firm's long-range industrial development program was inaugurated in 1939, and is now entering its fifteenth consecutive year of selling the industrial advantages of the "Gulf South," which is United's term for the area it serves.

Bearing the headline, "MISSISSIPPI, G. S.* (for Gulf South)—CHOICE LOCATION FOR INDUSTRIAL SUCCESS," the ad reads as follows:

"Ask any industrialist operating a plant in Mississippi. He'll tell you of the friendly people and cooperative government; of the amazing advantages offered by a moderate climate and good working conditions; of diversified raw materials, adequate electric power and natural gas fuel. Major factors in a successful industrial operation—they can be yours in Mississippi."

*Further information about plant locations in Mississippi, particularly as pertains to fuel supplies, is available from our Industrial Development Director, P. O. Box 1407, Shreveport, La.

Here today! At your Shell Dealer's Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years

TCP*, A SHELL DISCOVERED ADDITIVE, NOW BLENDED INTO SHELL PREMIUM GASOLINE, PUTS AN END TO GREATEST CAUSE OF POWER LOSS.

ACTUALLY BOOSTS POWER UP TO 15% SPARKPLUG LIFE UP TO 150%, BY COUNTERACTING THE DEPOSITS ON SPARKPLUGS AND IN COMBUSTION CHAMBERS.

Though you may not realize it, the chances are that your engine is delivering far less than its original horsepower.

This is because, in the average engine, deposits constantly build up on sparkplugs and in combustion chambers. These deposits actually "short-circuit" your sparkplugs causing them to misfire. They may also cause pre-ignition of the combustion mixture—resulting in severe knock. This is especially true when accelerating, climbing hills, or driving on the open highway.

This condition exists in the majority of cars on the road today.

To overcome this condition, Shell

Research discovered a fuel additive, TCP. Blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, TCP stops the short-circuiting effects of the deposits on sparkplugs and controls pre-ignition of the combustion mixture. This means for an average motorist, a power boost of up to 15 per cent, an increase in sparkplug life of up to 150 per cent, plus an increase in gasoline mileage!

Shell Premium with TCP is the most important advance in gasoline since the discovery of tetraethyl lead in 1923.

New and old engines both benefit.

If you have a new car, Shell Premium with TCP will keep it running like new.

want it to keep on delivering its original power for the normal life of the sparkplugs. But high compression or new Shell Premium with TCP keeps your engine working like new.

Overworked older engines also benefit. Even if your car has gone 30,000 miles or more, your engine can get back much of its original power by the use of Shell Premium with TCP.

Shell Premium with TCP quick to act.

So rapidly does Shell Premium with TCP counteract the deposits on sparkplugs and in combustion chambers that you'll feel your engine's had a tune-up before you've finished the second tankful. You enjoy that new car pep again.

NOW IN YOUR TOWN

Get it at your Shell Dealer's. TCP is specially designed by Shell Research for aviation fuels and unleaded auto fuels. It's not restricted to unleaded engines only.

Today, Shell Premium with TCP is available only at Shell Dealers.
